Biography

I have been in the manufactured housing business for 12 years. I have been involved in practically every kind of home sale that can be encountered, from 10' wide single section used homes to 2 story modulars.

In order to best fit my customer's needs, I do everything I can to keep on top of this ever evolving industry. I have somewhat of a different insight, for the fact that I live in a sectional home and owned a single section home previous to that. I can give a little different perspective than some other sales people, because I have experienced this process from both sides of the desk. I believe I can better help our customers from my hands on knowledge of what they need in all aspects.

Seven of my years in this business have been with Riverview Homes. I started and spent 4 years with them, then left and worked for 2 other manufactured home establishments. I came back to Riverview Homes, because I found out that customer service that was provided elsewhere cannot compare to Riverview.

My main goal is to take care of the customer.
